LISTENING

TO EVERYTHING

I would IiWe started working from the luxurious location of the bedroom in my wife's house. Those early days were tough but we always stuck to our core company values. Passion, listening and respect. We were passionate about what we did and we listened to our customers and really went the extra mile for them. It helped us build a base and grow out of the bedroom into an actual office.ke to say a huge thank you for showing an interest in our group. It always humbles me when I see all the exciting businesses who ask for information about one of our brands.

// EVERYTHING PAST

OUR STORY

Since the company was formed Everything has grown rapidly to become one of the most exciting and dynamic group of companies in the service industry.

2010's

Funder Paul Rowlett

2010

Using a small loan of $500 from a friend and a free laptop that came with a mobile phone contract, he founded Charles Alexander Distribution and launched his flagship online brand, EverythingBranded.co.uk

2013

By 2013, turnover exceeded $2 million and the company was winning awards. After being encouraged to explore the US market in 2015

2016

Paul went on to add EverythingBranded USA to his portfolio. Despite being a traditionally difficult market for British firms to compete in, within one year the new USA arm achieved more than $6 million in sales.

2017

Starting from a one-man operation in 2010 the printing group has grown in to a multi-million-dollar business which operates fully staffed offices in multiple locations.

2018

EverythingBranded USA (asi/160791), the U.S. arm of U.K.-based Charles Alexander Distribution, has opened a new office in Las Vegas. After establishing roots in Delaware over the past two years and exceeding $6.5 million in sales in its first year.

2019

The company expand the business further by launching their Republic Of Ireland website.

Group Finance Director

I would like to say a huge thank you for showing an interest in our group. It always humbles me when I see all the exciting businesses who ask for information about one of our brands.

Being the CEO and founder of the group, I always strive to keep our companies working to the same level of commitment from when I started my own business journey from my bedroom in 2010. These key ingredients are fundamental in keeping outstanding levels of service, which ultimately gives us the success we have experienced today. Many would argue that the main ingredients would be hard work and drive, which I fully agree – but often people miss the number one ingredient, and that's passion. That passion drives our goal, to always "Aim higher in whatever you do". This mindset and ethos is one of the main building blocks of our company training plan that I believe in so strongly.
